The board held that the cancandidates and that the nominees of the tember 12 were the regular Republican candidates and that the nominess of the Haines' hall convention could not be placed on the official ballot as Republican candidates. The nominations of James F. Getty and Harry Mendenhall were declared valid and their names will appear on the county ballot. The candidates who were knocked out by the board's decision were Charles Smelser, D. S. Haines and Dow McClain, nominees for the legislature: Robert Eagle. for clerk of the district court; John T. Sims, for probate county judge, and William Yenner, for county superintendent, Some of these men have filed petitions of

The candidates on the state ticket header by Getty for senator filed a contest some time ago, objecting to the nominations of the primary candidates. After filing the contest they turned right around and brought suit in the common pleas court to enjoin County Attorney Miller and District Clerk Hoffman from serving on the board on the grounds that they were interested parties. Judge Holt decided that they were ompetent to act as members of the boar in all the cases but the ones in which their nominations were in question. After meeting defeat here they withdrew their contest, whereupon the primary candidates filed papers of contest against them, which resulted as stated above.

As the matter now stands the primary candidates will go on the official ballot as the regular Republican candidates. J. F. HOLDING UP THE "JOINTS."

Democrats Resort to This in Order to Carry on the Leedy Campaign. The Democratic county central commit tee of Wyandotte county is bankrupt and in order to raise a campaign fund is "hold-ing up" the "jointists" of this city. Every man engaged in the liquor traffic is being compelled to donate to this fund and none of them is allowed to contribute less than $5. The average assessment is $10, while some of the "jointists" who have hopes of Leedy's election have given as high as $29. To hold up men and compel them to contribute money to a campaign fund be-cause they are engaged in an illegal busi-ness by threatening them with arrest, is what the Democrats in Wyandotte county call a "legitimate steal."

The "jointists" were subjected to a con-tinuous bleeding during Lewelling's administration and have scarcely recovered from the loss, and now that the Democrats are tapping them, they claim that they will have to mortgage their places or clos-their doors. A certain "jointist" on Minne sota avenue was visited last night by representatives of the committee, and when they made their demand for money he told them that he was badly in debt and could not give them anything without robbing himself. He was informed that a campaign fund had to be raised and was given until Saturday to "donate." George Gruble runs "joint" on North Fifth street and one on Minnesota avenue. He was assessed $10 for each place. Yesterday the Sixth ward was taken in and among those assessed were Kassimer & Zoller, $25; Tim Lyons, $25, and Hank Evans, $10.

J. L. Williams, a well known real estate man of this city was seriously injured yes-terday afternoon at the corner of Fifth street and Virginia avenue. Williams had been talking with a crowd of men near the "L" road car barn and had mounted his bicycle to ride away, when he turned around to talk with them again and in turning ran into a wagon loaded with stone that was passing along the street. He fell directly in front of the forward wheels. The team, instead of running. stopped, but not until the front wheel had passed partly over Williams' body. One of the horses also stepped on his chest, frac-turing several of his ribs. When picked up turing several of his ribs. When picked up he was unconscious. Dr. J. M. Thomas, who attended him at his home, said last evening that there was very little chance for his recovery, as he is badly bruised and is seriously injured internally. The driver of the wagon was not held, as he was in no way to blame for the accident.
